BIO

Mr. Tringali is a Partner and the Chair of the Business and Estate Litigation Group. He is certified by the Supreme Court of New Jersey as a Civil Trial Attorney, and he has been appointed by the Supreme Court of New Jersey to serve as the Chair of the District XII Ethics Committee.

Mr. Tringali has represented companies of various sizes as well as individuals in litigations filed in New Jersey, New York, Florida and the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. Mr. Tringali frequently handles contract litigation, ownership buyouts and shareholder disputes as well as commercial tenancy matters.

Mr. Tringali frequently handles estate litigation, and he represents public sector clients, health care providers and individuals involved in family matters. Mr. Tringali has served as court appointed counsel for alleged incapacitated persons in guardianship proceedings and he serves as a court appointed mediator and early settlement panelist for Chancery matters pending in several counties in New Jersey. Mr. Tringali and his team serve as outside general counsel for several businesses.

Mr. Tringali takes a result driven approach to litigation and his diverse background of experiences allows him to be creative in his approach to representing clients. Mr. Tringali strives to promote prudent and ethical lawyering and works closely with clients to make informed decisions about case strategies.

Mr. Tringali served as an adjunct professor at Seton Hall Law where he taught Appellate Advocacy for several semesters, and he is a member of Seton Hall Law's Small Firm Advisory Committee. When he is not in the office, Mr. Tringali serves as the Vice President of Softball for the Cranford Baseball and Softball League, and he is a New Jersey appeals board member for the United States Selective Services System.
